Implement the lesson and then reflect on the accommodation and/or modification you made by writing up a one-page summary of the experience. If you need support, participate in a Direct Connect session on this topic. (see Option I) You will receive three additional in-service points for participation.

Accommodation: change how a student learns the materials. For example: listening to audio recordings instead of reading text. Students are expected to learn the same material and meet the same expectations as their classmates.
